On a clothes dryer be vented into an existing chimney?
No clothes dryer, gas or electric, should be connected to a chimney, flue or vent serving another appliance. The moisture from clothes dryers should be exhausted outdoors to keep the air inside the house from becoming moisture saturated.

Is it true that clothes dryers cause white clothes to turn yellow?

Discoloration of clothes is usually due to improper laundry procedures, such as soap or detergent buildup caused by inadequate rinsing. The heat of any dryer will cause discoloring if proper laundry procedures are not followed. To avoid yellowing, do not overload the washer, use the recommended measured amount of soap or detergent in the wash water and be sure the clothes are thoroughly rinsed.

FORRESTRY SHORTCOURSE

Coffee Countians attend District 4-H Forrestry Shortcourse. Some of the areas of forestry taught were tree identification, wood identification, compass reading, and pining. Attending, left to right, were Dr. J. J. Forrester, Extension agent, Mackay, Ala., and Jimmy Smith of the Great Northern Paper Company, Keith Houtt, and LaVaughn Carpenter, 4-H'er's from Elba, and Donnie Parrish, 4-H'er from Mt. Pleasant.

Whose fault is it when permanent press sheets wrinkle badly during laundering—the manufacturer of the sheets or the laundry appliance?

If your clothes dryer does not have a permanent press cycle, or if bed linens aren't removed from the dryer as soon as the dryer stops, wrinkling will occur. All permanent press clothes should have a cool water rinse before the spin cycle. If your dryer is an older model without a permanent press cycle, set the heat to "low" for drying such items.

Church Camp

TO THE GLORY OF GOD - This is the theme of the summer campers who are attending camp at Camp Victory located at Florida. Children learn about God, nature, self-sufficiency and togetherness.

Camp Victory is nestled in a lovely pastoral setting surrounding a peaceful lake. Missionaries visiting Camp Victory for last week showed the children films and handicrafts they had collected during their 25 years spent in Africa. Working at the camp, Mr. Jonas Miller, Camp Director, are dedicated to giving children a Christian environment during their stay.

Children visiting the camp from the Victoria Community thru July 1 are Myra Griswold, Joanne Clark and Lisa Crook.

SUMMER MEALS

If you're a parent and you are tired when making lunch for your children is a daily affair. They're not in school and being served the school lunch. But it's your chance to provide a meal that is not only nutritious but also a treat. The very best in nutrition and at the same time giving your children meals the way they like them most - your way.

It is surprising, though, how many mothers wonder if they are giving their children the nutrition they need. Quite often mothers make sure by just giving the kids too much to eat - thus creating overweight. Well, today let's give them information so that they won't do this. Here are some of the most asked questions, and my answers:

Q. What constitutes a good lunch?
A. The pattern to follow is the same as school lunch: a protein and good day care centers use. A minimum lunch or supper should include: meat or other protein food (egg, poultry, fish, cheese); two or more vegetables or fruits; milk, bread or rolls and a table spread such as butter. Suitable additions to this meal, if your portions have not been too big, would be a simple dessert such as fruit and/or milk pudding.

Q. What about breakfast?
A. The pattern here, in terms of

Food Expert Says Additives are Safe, Necessary, Helpful

"Too few consumers are aware that this country's highly responsible food industry doesn't fool around with food additives," according to A. S. Clausi, General Foods' vice president of technical research. "We assess the safety of every additive we use," he said, "both in light of current regulations and in terms of potential hazard."

Mr. Clausi said that consumer fear and concern are fed by each new scare headline, "and seldom in the print below do we find the facts which food technologists know well."

Additives extend keeping qualities of processed foods, according to Mr. Clausi.

Also, he said, additives improve flavor, texture, appearance, and add color as well as nutrients. They keep some foods creamier and smoother, others crispier and fresher, and it is the additives which help speed preparation of daily meals.

He said that, with few exceptions, these same additives occur in nature as components of natural foodstuffs.

HOW & WHO CAN VOTE ABSENTEE

ABSENTEE VOTING LAWS

With general municipal elections coming up August 8, this article will disclose the Alabama absentee voting procedure. Any qualified voter in the Armed Forces, including the Alabama National Guard, naval reserves, air force reserves, U.S. military reserves, on active duty for training, whose regular duty requires him to be absent on election day, and the wife of any such elector who resides with him at his duty station may vote an absentee ballot.

Service members, or the wife of any member of the armed services if she meets the above stated requirements, may not more than forty-five nor less than five days prior to the election, make application for an absentee ballot in writing or by filling out the federal post card application form and mailing such application to the City Clerk. The affidavit required of absentee electors is on the ballot and may be executed before the commanding officer or authority in charge. Forty-five days before election (August 8) is June 24th and five days before is August 3rd.

College Students

Any qualified elector who is absent from the county because of his attendance at any university or college at which he is enrolled outside of the county, or his spouse, if qualified to vote and residing with the elector, may vote an absentee ballot. Application should be made to the city clerk between June 24th and August 3rd with a statement signed by the registrar of the school (or his qualified assistant) that such person is enrolled, or is the spouse of the person so enrolled at the institution.

Disabled Veterans

Disabled voters may vote absentee ballots if confined in a facility or hospital operated by the Veterans Administration. The limiting dates are the same as set out above and application shall contain a certificate signed by the authority in charge of the hospital certifying that the applicant is a disabled veteran then confined to such hospital.

Regular Absentee Voter

Any qualified elector whose name appears on the official list of qualified voters, whose regular business or occupation regularly requires him to be absent from the county, may vote an absentee ballot. Such elector shall present himself to the board of registrars at any time not less than thirty days before the next election and have his name placed on the list of qualified electors eligible to vote an absentee ballot. The board determines if such person is qualified to vote an absentee ballot and if such determination is made places the name on the list.

Any qualified elector who is confined to a hospital (other than a hospital for mental patients) or is confined to a nursing home or the home of another person, on account of a physical disability, may vote an absentee ballot. Application is made in the same manner as a disabled veteran and must have an attached certificate signed by a licensed practicing physician certifying where applicant is confined and describing his physical condition and that he will be unable to get to his polling place to vote. The certificate must be sworn to before a notary public or some other person authorized to administer oaths.

"Build a better mousetrap," said Ralph Waldo Emerson, "and the world will beat a path to your door."
 But the United States Patent Office is not so easily impressed. If your mousetrap is better merely because it is made of better materials, you probably could not get a patent. It must also work in a new and better way.

4-H CALVES

It appears from all our contracts that 4-H feeder calves are going to be higher than in previous years. Of course, that is good news for producers in Coffee County. However, it has a tendency to slow down boys and girls who are buying calves to put on feed. However, most folks who have children feeding out steers are interested in the training of their children and not overly conscious of the cost involved. We expect to have an annual show above this year with a lot of young people in the county taking part.

LESSER STALK BORER

Dan Presley contacted a couple of farmers last week who reported about $380, up from $322, per acre in the United States. He said there appears to be a world-wide shortage of the stalk borer. This borer kills the peanut plant by boring into the main stem or into the limb of the plant. It also destroys peas, and this is hitting coffee growers. We had some stalk borers in the past, but the latest recommendation that we have for control of the lesser corn stalk borer is Dazition, using 20 pounds of 10 percent granules per acre. In addition to the lesser corn stalk borer, we had several worms in peanuts. These can be easily controlled by using one of the latest or other materials that are recommended.

The family of Mrs. John T. Grimes wishes to express deep appreciation for the many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy extended to her and to us during her illness, and at the time of her death.

LESSER STALK BORER

Dan Presley contacted a couple of farmers last week who reported about $380, up from $322, per acre in the United States. He said there appears to be a world-wide shortage of the stalk borer. This borer kills the peanut plant by boring into the main stem or into the limb of the plant. It also destroys peas, and this is hitting coffee growers. We had some stalk borers in the past, but the latest recommendation that we have for control of the lesser corn stalk borer is Dazition, using 20 pounds of 10 percent granules per acre. In addition to the lesser corn stalk borer, we had several worms in peanuts. These can be easily controlled by using one of the latest or other materials that are recommended.

4-H CALVES

It appears from all our contracts that 4-H feeder calves are going to be higher than in previous years. Of course, that is good news for producers in Coffee County. However, it has a tendency to slow down boys and girls who are buying calves to put on feed. However, most folks who have children feeding out steers are interested in the training of their children and not overly conscious of the cost involved. We expect to have an annual show above this year with a lot of young people in the county taking part.

Trade Information Is Available

Non tariff barriers which discriminate against United States industry are the subjects of an intensive study by a high-level task force of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The report, "The Many Faces of Non-Tariff Barriers," states that the U.S. objective should be to put international competition on a fairer and more equitable basis for American business and industry by negotiating a new set of international trading rules which would be binding on all nations.

Companies interested in foreign trade may obtain a copy of the report by writing to the National Association of Manufacturers, 277 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

End of Tooth Decay Is Predicted In Decade

Within the next decade, tooth decay in the United States may be virtually eliminated, according to a spokesman for Canrad Provision Industries Inc., Newark, N.J. Working with the L. D. Canik Company, Canrad-Hanovia has produced an ultra-violet light (known as the Dental Gun) which is used as an activator light in connection with a new tooth sealant.

The teeth are first cleaned and conditioned by the dentist before placement of the sealant material. After application of a liquid plastic, the material is exposed to a harmless ultra-violet light which quickly hardens into a smooth plastic shield.

The Old Timer

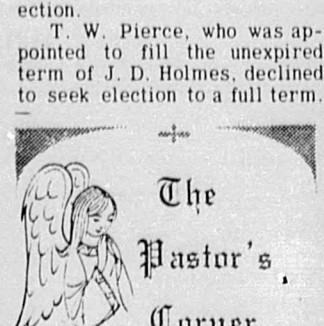

"The best way to get your face lifted is by holding up your head."

Politics are beginning to pop in Kinston as well as most of the other small towns in South Alabama. When the qualifying deadline passed Wednesday, ten men had signed on the dotted line seeking election in Kinston. Incumbent Mayor Ray Stanley is being opposed by W. B. Whitehurst.

Eight men are seeking the five seats on the Kinston City Council. In Kinston, all men run at large and the five with the largest vote are elected.

The eight men seeking Council positions are: John Will Smith, Marvin K. Bowdin, Talbert Sumerlin, D. A. Seay, Steve Hunko, Bill Mullins, J. C. Anderson, and Paul Martin. Smith, Bowdin, Sumerlin and Seay are the incumbents seeking re-election.

T. W. Pierce, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of J. D. Holmes, declined to seek election to a full term.

REV. EDWIN R. SELLS

Words are a precious commodity. Yet, how often do we really give the kind of thought we should to what we say? The person who really says something every time he opens his mouth is few and far between. Some across some words worth striving to attain recently in a church bulletin.

I WILL NOT WORRY. Usually we are saying everything but that. How wonderful it is to have the kind of assurance in your life where worry has no place. Worry is a damaging wasting process that comes to little or no avail. Many more things are wrought by prayer than by worry. Are you free from worry? Have you learned the secret of letting God have these things that you can't help? You will find that you are happier a person when you do.

I WILL NOT BE AFRAID. One of the great deterrents to peace is fear. Fear is an enemy of health and freedom. A certain amount of fear may be a good thing used in the right way. Fear cannot dominate a person without breaking out in that person through a troubled and emotionally upset mind. A person must have the necessary amount of self confidence which our Heavenly Father can supply him. The Psalmist indicates in several places that God removes this sense of fear from His children.

I WILL BE CHEERFUL AND HOPEFUL. The Bible urges us to "be of good cheer." Nobody really wants to be a downhearted. Some of the best medicine in life is a smiling face. Behind that face needs to be a sure hope and a trusting faith. Christians sometimes fall far short of the kind of happy people that Christ meant us to be. Your trying to be cheerful may be the very remedy that another person needs to make a comeback.

I WILL NOT GIVE WAY TO ANGER. Everyone needs some temper. Some of us don't have enough and some are heavily endowed. I suppose the real key to temper is whether we can successfully control it. It can be a servant for you or you can become a slave to it. The great resources of Jesus Christ can help you control your anger.

Are you willing to make these four statements? They can be costly for you but they could well be the unlocking of a whole new world for you. Your positive attention to these four things could make the difference in just existing and real living. Try it!

JOHNNY MARTIN

Looking ahead a bit into the 1972 football season of our state universities, it looks as if the opponents for both Auburn and Alabama will provide plenty of fireworks. Both teams will face perennial top-25 teams in Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, and LSU before their showdown in Legion Field on December 2.

Alabama will play nine home games, four in Tuscaloosa and five in Birmingham. There are also two open dates in probably the easiest Tide schedule in history. But can you call a schedule easy when you must face Georgia in Athens (Oct. 7), Tennessee in Knoxville (Oct. 21), and Florida in between?

After opening with Chattanooga and an almost sure win, Auburn will waste no time finding out how it stacks up against the SEC's best. The Tigers' next three games are Tennessee, Ole Miss, and LSU, the latter two on the opponents home field. Also on the October 28 homecoming game, Auburn will try its luck at throttling 1971's leading passer FSU's Gary Huff.

If you haven't bought your tickets for the "biggie" this fall, forget it. As Carl Stephens says, "But there's going to be some exciting football played in our state this fall. We can look for another National Contender in the 1972 Crimson Tide, and what's supposed to be a rebuilding year at Auburn may surprise a few people."

Back into season, and namely golf, the 8th Annual Roy King Memorial Golf Tournament was held at Elba Country Club July 4, and was enjoyed by some thirty eight golfers. Larry Jacobs, playing consistent golf, took first place in the Championship flight with a score of 117 for 27 holes. Ricky Mulatz finished second with 124, and Ronnie Powell third with 128.

Long-knocking Bill Waddall won the handicap Division. His

Elba Country Club

18 hole score of 86 gave him a net 69, and it shared top spot with Ronald Smith, whose 85 gave him a net 69 in a three-hole playoff. Waddall made two pars and a birdie to win going away.

Second place in the handicap Division was won by Smith, while A. C. Courson had a net 70 for third. Buddy Dick's 71 won fourth place.

Highlights of tournaments were many. For instance, Farrel Burk showed the original "banana slice" on the first tee, and Coach Randy Griffin proved that football is really his best sport. And that play-off between Smith and Waddall required two golf carts. The former Auburn football player and big "Red" couldn't get in one together.

New Museum Features Eggs and Seashells

Over 100,000 sets comprising the largest egg collection in the world, are housed in the newly opened multi-million-dollar Delaware Museum of Natural History in Greenville, near Wilmington, Del.

Conceived by John E. du Pont in 1957, the museum is a repository for eggs accumulated from older collections around the world. It also features collections of rare seashells, birds and mammals.

The museum's research collection comprises one million seashells, and 40,000 specimens of birds, including many extinct and vanishing species, besides the egg collection.

Mr. du Pont said that the work of the museum's researchers in the past two years has shed new light on how man has harmed his natural resources and what he must do in order to preserve them.

HAS HEART RESEARCH PAID OFF?

Is it worth it? You can bet your life heart research is. The conquest of heart disease is acknowledged to be a long and devoted struggle, one the Heart Association has been dedicated to for the past quarter of a century. Have the 14 million Heart Fund Dollars spent thus far in this country (over a million in Alabama) on this noble cause resulted in any gains or victories for the patient with heart or vascular diseases?

Let's look at the record. BIRTH DEFECTS - When today's high school senior was born almost all "blue babies" were destined for early death due to heart failure, because there simply was no safe way to accomplish the corrective surgery that was needed. It was only in the early forties that heart catheterization became practical enough to allow us to begin finding out where and what the short circuits in the heart were.

With this knowledge certain additional passages could be made to lead the blood that had bypassed the lungs back into the lungs so that some of the blues, or cyanosis, could be reduced or relieved. It was a start.

When later heart research dollars helped in the development of pump and oxygen exchange machine outside the body - to which a patient could be connected for one or two hours - then surgeons could for the first time fix many of the wrongway circuits in the heart. Finally, since the advent of the heart-lung machine at least three out of four blue babies can now be treated and live healthy lives with virtually normal life expectancies.

RHEUMATIC HEART DISEASE - The other dividend from the development of the heart lung machine was that scarred heart daughter, Ann, to Rickey Holley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Holley of Samson.

The bride to be is the daughter of the late Leroy Boutwell and is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Noah W. Boutwell and Mrs. A. L. Moore and the late Mr. Moore, all of Elba.

She was graduated from Elba High School.

The groom to be is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Otis Wilson of Elba and Mrs. Sally Holley and the late Mr. Columbus Holley of Samson.

He was graduated from Kinston High School and is currently employed in Tifton, Georgia.

The wedding is scheduled for the evening of July 29th at seven thirty in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boutwell of Elba. All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

values resulting from rheumatic fever could be mended or even replaced. The bed-chair existence of the rheumatic heart patient was corrected by what is now a one to two hour operation done in most medical centers. Thousands upon thousands of young adults who would have been totally disabled heart cripples now lead full normal lives.

As has been true throughout the three thousand or more years of medical history, prevention of disease has always been the most effective cure. When heart research dollars helped establish that virtually all rheumatic heart disease was related to an infection with the streptococcus bacteria (strep throats) which was sensitive to penicillin, the early diagnosis of strep throat and antibiotic treatment, especially in young children, led to a dramatic fall in the incidence of rheumatic heart and vascular disease. Large specialty clinics and special hospital units for the care of the young rheumatic patients have virtually disappeared.

The battle is not won, though, because many streptococci still sneak by. The Heart Association, by informing the public of how to look for a strep throat, will help reduce the number of cases to the barest minimum. Not every strep throat means future rheumatic disease, but the chances are great enough to justify our continuing vigilance.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE - One of the most common malaises of modern man is high blood pressure, or hypertension. Besides the fact that the man with hypertension is more likely to have a heart attack, the condition itself most greatly influences stroke, a blockage or a break in one of the major arteries that supply the brain. If we could prevent or completely cure high blood pressure, then three out of every four strokes now seen would likely not have happened.

Already the heart research dollar has paid off in this common condition. Drugs and surgery have combined to give the doctor some potent weapons in the treatment of high blood pressure; medicines to reduce the patient's high reactivity to life's problems; diuretics that influence salt and water metabolism; and chemicals that release the nerves that hold the little blood vessels in a tightened or constricted position to lower pressure have all led to less illness and fewer deaths.

due to high blood pressure. There have been at least one third fewer deaths from the problems of hypertension in the last five years due to these advances in treatment.

HEART ATTACK - Finally what about "the big one." Heart attack, the cause of death that is more common than cancer, accidents, war casualties, diabetes and liver disease combined! Our most intense research efforts are now being poured into this epidemic problem. Use of modern electronic monitoring of the heart attack victim has already helped us to detect "electrical haywire" early enough to correct it before it makes the heart stop. It is electrical failure, not muscle failure that causes most sudden coronary deaths! The heart research dollars that have helped to learn this are now being used to find ways to detect the earliest evidences of heart attack - the "early warning signs."

We have already learned what the characteristics are that predispose someone to having an attack - "the risk factors," these factors are high blood pressure, high cholesterol, on high cigarette usage.

Snapper has developed a great attachment for vacuuming grass, leaves, pine needles and light litter.

We call it the grass catcher attachment. But it takes care of a lot more than just grass clippings. And it's mounted in the back, to offer easier handling and greater maneuverability as you vacuum clean your lawn.

• Optional grass catcher fits all 26" or 30" Comets.

• Holds six bushels. • Unloads in seconds.

He is active in a number of civic, religious and educational functions, and has won national sales awards in his business activities.

Entertainment at the meeting will be provided by the Thrasher Brothers Quartet, of Birmingham, from the "American Sings" television program. This group is returning off a crowd pleasing performance at the 1971 meeting.

During the business session, Covington Electric members will receive reports on operations of the Cooperative, and elect two members to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees.

UNLUCKY TO GO UNDER A LADDER! The driver of this car found out that it is unlucky to even start under a ladder, especially when you try driving under the one with your automobile.

Last Thursday evening, just before dark, this car driven by Mr. Dan Adams of Elba crashed into the home of Mr. Rusty Hudson, doing extensive damage to the kitchen. Mr. Adams was not hurt and no one was at home at the Hudson home. The home is located on the sharp curve on the Taylor Mill Road, about four blocks from downtown Elba.

Investigating officer Roy R. Sylvester of the Elba police department later told this newspaper that Mr. Adams was charged with driving with a valid driver's license.

Scout-A-Rama To Be Held In Elba August 5

Scouts from Elba will join hundreds of Boy Scouts from dozens of communities in this area for a giant "Scout-A-Rama" to be held Saturday, August 5 in the Elba, Alabama Armory.

Everything from frying bacon in a paper bag to giant pole scaffolds will be on display for the thousands of visitors expected to attend the event.

To give the public an opportunity to see scouting first hand the armory will be partitioned off into many sections with each section containing some interesting scouting activity.

At a past Scout-O-Rama held in Opp, the displays overtook the armory and extended outside where an Andalusia troop had erected an elaborate swinging bridge. Tickets for the event will be on sale at the Armory for 75¢. Money derived from the tickets will go toward purchasing canoes and trailers to be kept in this district.

The public is invited to attend and see Boy Scouting in action.

Neil R. Smart, Director of the Montgomery Veterans Administration Regional Office, said that in Alabama during April, about 226 were completing high school under the G. I. Bill, and swelling the ranks of those who have taken advantage of a five year old VA program that pays them monthly allowance while attending schools below the college level.

For these veterans this means enrollment in remedial or refresher courses to enable them to earn elementary or high school diplomas or otherwise qualify for higher education. Thus these veterans are able to save their full entitlement for higher education later on.

Veterans who are having trouble with their studies may receive special tutorial help which VA will pay for.

So far, about 900 educationally disadvantaged Alabama veterans have taken advantage of "catch-up" schooling or training since it became available in 1967.

However, Smart pointed out that this figure does not include all assistance provided. For example, many educationally disadvantaged veterans elect to enter on-job training programs or attend vocational and trade schools.

For further information contact the nearest VA office or your local veterans service organization representative.

Mayor Jack Brunson and Mr. D. M. English, Chairman of the Elba Housing Authority, have been notified by the Department of Housing and Urban Development that 50 additional low rental apartment units have been approved for Elba.

The Housing Authority presently has 60 rentals, however, the applications for these units greatly exceed the units available. According to Mr. English they have approximately 100 applications on the waiting list at all times.

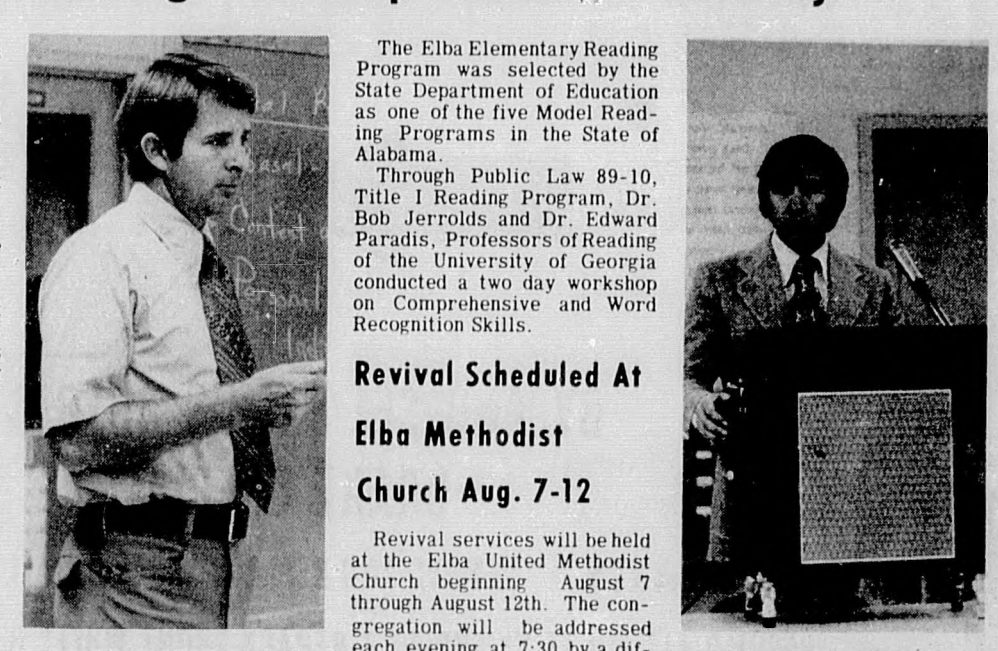

In December of 1969, the Housing Authority made applications for some additional rental units. To receive favorable consideration for the application the City had to adopt a new Comprehensive Development Plan which involved the adoption and enforcement of new ordinances on Zoning and Housing. This Plan was completed and adopted in May 1971.

Mr. English states that a site for the new units has not been selected at this time, however, he anticipates that construction will be started within 3 or 4 months.
